As Each Day Passes, I love even more as world just move on by.
Not gonna lie to you your eyes are like two diamonds in the sky.
Can't explain how you make me feel so alive, I guess
it's just the way you
Look at me with your eyes

How do you do what you do to me all of the time
Just take my hand and fly away to those blissful skies

And when you not with it just leaves my love blind.
The thought of you with him it tears up my mind.
The years just pass on by ever since your love died.
And some times I think I should have left it behind

How do you do what you do to me all of the time
Just take my hand and fly away to those blissful skies.

And baby I don't care.
As long I can stare.
Cause baby your not there anymore to tell me I'll love you the best I can.

As the world passes by. X 10
