I didn't go out yesterday didn't see the film last night didn't look the right way had noone at my side and then I didn't meet my friends didn't talk to them for a while didn't shake a thousand hands didn't take anyone's mile and what's worse

I didn't make you smile

Ref.:

tomorrow'll be another day after all and life goes on no matter how hard we fall we'll always stand up for another start but sadness cuts deep wounds into our heart sadness cuts deep wounds in our heart I didn't go into a pub to gulp down all concern with beer drank so much that I forgot what I was doing here but I quit quickly turned sober with two strong men next to my chair who said something like "sod off" which was more than I could bear I had the funny feeling they didn't want me there

Ref.:

and then I wanted to go home didn't catch the train any more had the really funny feeling all this had happened before but I didn't meet a wise man who told me how to fight didn't meet that pretty girl still I could talk all right couldn't find the words to make you smile that night
