Hush hush

I've been watching while you sleep, baby
Hoping I'm the only one to frequent your dreams

I can't take another breath
Without feeling the regret of my jealousy
Horrorified that you might have really lied
Tell me, is it a possibility?
Overwhelming proof that you're nothing but a fake

I've seen those hush hush looks you give
When you're talking to him
I've heard your undercover tone of voice
The one you use with all the boys

I've been nonchalant about the calls at 2 AM
But do you really think that I would believe
It was just your mother again?

I can't take another breath
Without feeling the regret of my jealousy
Horrorified that you might have really lied
Tell me, is it a possibility?
Overwhelming proof, that you're nothing but a fake

I've seen those hush hush looks you give
When you're talking to him
I've heard your undercover tone of voice
The one you use with all the boys

I've witnessed all your sneaking around
In every corner of town
I've listened while you pretended to cry
Defending your hush hush alibi

Your heart is charcoal smoking black
Why don't you just tie the mattress to your back?

I've seen those hush hush looks you give
Hush hush, yeah

I've seen those hush hush looks you give
When you're talking to him
I've heard your undercover tone of voice
The one you use with all the boys
(I've seen those hush hush looks you give)

(I've seen those hush hush looks you give)
With all the boys
(I've seen those hush hush looks you give)
(I've seen those hush hush looks you give)
