Well, I'm holding up a piece of glass to the sun
Well, I might fool around, but sometimes I get things done
All of you bureaucrats, yeah, you never have any fun
And I'm holding up a piece of glass to the sun

Well, I might be a dreamer, but at least I'm not a screamer
Don't laugh, it's been a lot of screaming done

Well, I'm home today 'cause I got suspended from school
For insubordination to one of their strong-armed fools I'm surprised he got so mad, I must've hit him in the jewels
And I'm home today 'cause I got suspended from

Well, my mom will be so mad, my family life's gone bad
And my dad will think it's a challenge to a duel

Well I'm holding up a piece of glass to the sun
Well, I might fool around, but sometimes I get things
done
All of you bureaucrats, yeah, you never have any fun
And I'm holding up a piece of glass to the sun
