

The Spirit That Guides Us "The Final Hour"

Visit "The Final Hour" on MotoLyrics.com

I don't care, if you don't try to pull me out.
I've got no truck with this and that, so leave me out.
Spin the wheel and tell me what do you see.
'Cause I don't know what's happening inside of me.
All I can give you: a sad smile.
But I do remember you, at least for a while.
Your eyes upon me, never out of sight.
Your eyes upon me from the highest tower.
It's when you move me by the brightest light.
I crave your comeback in the final hour.
I don't know, if I lost my way. Just the track of time.
Bring me back so I can see if it's yours or mine.
All I can give you: a sad smile.
But I do remember you, at least for a while.
Your eyes upon me, never out of sight.
Your eyes upon me from the highest tower.
It's when you move me by the brightest light.
I crave your comeback in the final hour.
I just don't understand my own thoughts.
I crave the final hour.
I just don't understand my own thoughts.
I crave the final hour.

Visit The Spirit That Guides Us page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.