"5 Days And Counting" in my car...5 days and counting here you are the phone rings, what more can you say i know you won't ever admit that you fell for him he never loved you back isn't it wonderful

so predictable i told you so

stay awake
i'm here now don't say sorry not picking up because he knows your calling he's holding back because he knows your falling your night and day and that's why he's stalling but one day (one day), he'll be sorry i hope that you never relive that something tells me trouble always gives you a hand it's just a matter of passing time after time, after time

stay awake tonight
forget about your last goodbyes and you'll be sorry
stay awake tonight
forget about your last goodbyes now don't say sorry

stay awake
stay awake
i'm here, why don't you tell me was it worth it was it really everything tell me was it worth was it really everything you ever thought someone could be
