And you'll choke on those words, no one can swallow that much pride
And my contentions all ring true, every word you said was a lie
And I thought we were friends but you changed that in time
And you're too caught up in the trends with your ego on the line

You played the role until I called you out, now I really hope you listened
I really hope you change things this time, don't feed
me that line
I'm waiting for something that you'll never give, never again

And this music will end and you'll move on to the next dying trend
You're my fairweather friend
And the signals that you send get mixed too easily Another day like this could be the end of me

You played the role until I called you out, now I really
hope you listened
I really hope you change things this time, don't feed
me that line
I'm waiting for something that you'll never give, never
again

You played the role, you played the role, you played the role
Change things this time, don't feed me that line I'm waiting for something that you'll never give, that you'll never give That you'll never give, that you'll never
