

Spitalfield "Van Buren"

Visit "Van Buren" on MotoLyrics.com

The day after Independence Day
There's no laughter and nothing left to say
We all fall back to our patterned lives
Our hearts turn black, pursue the dollar signs

Either way we will all fall down
The beating clock is the only sound
Close our eyes as we hit the ground
And wake up blinded

Either way we will all fall down
The beating clock is the only sound
Close our eyes as we hit the ground
And wake up blinded

We're all burnt out from working overtime
From eating pills that control our state of mind
We drink ourselves asleep just to forget the day
Then medicate again just to stay awake

Are we living just to die
Or are we just dying to live?

Either way we will all fall down
The beating clock is the only sound
Close our eyes as we hit the ground
And wake up blinded

Either way we will all fall down
The beating clock is the only sound
Close our eyes as we hit the ground
And wake up blinded

Visit Spitalfield page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.