I drove five hundred miles
To find a place this high
There ain't nothing up here but this old cabin
And the occasional deer
She said you will be bored to death
But it hasn't happened yet
In fact I might stay
For a couple more days

Sometimes you gotta lose yourself
To see where you're at
When everything gets turned around
And the world seems so off-track
Sometimes you gotta get away
To find your way back

I ain't read a book in years
But I've gone through three out here
I've hunted and I've fished
And drank a few beers
I'm not one to complain
But my job got so insane
That life just wasn't fun
Wasn't much good

Sometimes you gotta lose yourself
To see where you're at
When everything gets turned around
And the world seems so off-track
Sometimes you gotta get away
To find your way back

And when I get back home to her
I'll be a different man
And I'll love her more than ever
'Cause she understands

Sometimes you gotta get away
To keep it all from slipping away
Sometimes you gotta get away
To find your way back
