My Barbara close the doors at midnight She's waited round this place for all her life and when it ends no going back again

while in this spiral maze that ship has sailed I've gone through every phase can't get back to the one I love

A single crow flies to the north the harbor glows to form the shoreline

My Barbara close the doors at midnight
She's waited round this place for all her life each toppled hope fell down like dominoes

that's how it all goes down
It never fails
I've done the mess around can't get back to the one I love

that ship has sailed
I've gone through every phase falling down like dominoes

A single crow flies to the north
(she's waited round this place for all her life)
the harbor glows to form the shoreline

I've done the mess around
can't get back to the one I love
