

Splender "London"

Visit "London" on MotoLyrics.com

I've been to London, oh
I've sailed a ship around the world
I've counted angels, oh
I've seen a tangerine girl

And though it's leading me on
And though I know that it's wrong
And though I'm living my dream
I still can't seem to move on

I've swallowed aspirin, oh
I've seen the white of my own eyes
I've felt the hunger, oh
I've swallowed handfuls of flies

And though it's leading me on
And though I know that it's wrong
And though I'm living my dream
I still can't seem to move on

I've watched the felines oh
I've watched them scratch my skin away
I've tripped the land mines oh
I've watched them blow my face away

And though it's leading me on
And though I know that it's wrong
And though I'm living my dream
I still can't finish this song
As she sang

And though it's leading me on
And though I know that it's wrong
And though I'm living my dream
I've been tomorrow

As she sang
As she sang
As she sang
As she sang

