Splender
"Maybe Someday"

Visit "Maybe Someday" on MotoLyrics.com

And if I gave you the sun, would you take it home?
And if I gave you a gun would you feel alone?
And if I bothered you much then tell me to walk away
Away, away, away

Throw me a loan to stop all the stones
And I would steal you the flesh to sew on your bones
And if you show me a sign then I'm gonna die for you
For you, for you, for you, that's all I have to say

Maybe someday I'll come, maybe someday I'll go
I know my way takes me home, but there'll be hell to pay

Blow up the clothes, they never appear
And if you ever got sad, I would choke on your tears
So you should show me the line, I'm standing behind for you
For you, for you, for you

'Cause I've been a vagrant who lives in a basement
And every single day I just try to replace it
So show me a sign and I'm telling you one last time
One time, one time, one time, that's all I have to say

Maybe someday I'll come, maybe someday I'll go
I know my way takes me home, but there'll be hell to
pay
Maybe someday I'll come, maybe someday I'll go
I know my way takes me home, but there'll be hell to
pay

No pain, no blood, no oxygen
No breaks, no cuts, no sentences
No time, no way, to work this in
So where do I begin

So if you gave me a loan I'd give it all back
And if you wanna get stoned I won't stop you from that
But if you wanna believe that I got a need for you
For you, for you, for you, that's all I have to say

Maybe someday I'll come, maybe someday I'll go
I know my way takes me home, but there'll be hell to
pay
Maybe someday I'll come, maybe someday I'll go
I know my way takes me home, but there'll be hell to
pay

But there'll be hell to pay, but there'll be hell to pay
But there'll be hell to pay, but there'll be hell to pay
But there'll be hell to pay, but there'll be hell to pay
...

Visit Splender page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.