Here in the dark I feel electric
I sense my skin in between the waves
I am human, I am criminal
But I feel life here in my heart again

Standing in the rain
Thinking of a way
To keep these feelings inside
Walk away from here
Before the words appear
I will be silent

Here in the dark
I feel electric
I sense my skin in between the waves
I am human, I am criminal
But I feel life here in my heart again

I hide behind the walls
So you don't notice me at all
But it hurts me so
I'm waiting in the wind
Whispering the things
I want you to know

Here in the dark
I feel electric
I sense my skin in between the waves
I am human, I am criminal
But I feel life here in my heart again
Only for you.
