I want to gather my heart hug my self and leave i want to heal my pain yes i will i want your love to go away i want your pain to leave me alone i should teach my heart how to be tough and i will survive i used to live all the past years just for you i told to to my self that i'll stay with you i used to love you so much when you go away i wait for you i used to feel something else when i'm with you you were the whole world to me I must teach my heart to forget, it must forget and i must survive
