Human way of acting has never been good but yet he was aware, he really understood that something had to be done, done right now The solution was perfect. I will tell you how:
a robot was placed inside a human shell = the android was born and it became very well
The androids are here, here to take control
The androids are here, here on patrol
The androids are here, and we'll never go away
The androids are here, so do as I say
The humans liked the thing so they made many more Never realising what the future had in store
We became more perfect, now producing on our own Many thousands saw the day - we were sure not alone
But after a while we all got together
The androids are here, here to take control
The androids are here, here on patrol
The androids are here, and we'll never go away
The androids are here, so do as I say
We will use you, we will abuse you you will be our slaves every day
And if you try to decide, we'll make the process short
The human can be replaced, so don't disobey Maybe you think that we enjoy this game?
Of course we do! We've got feelings just the same as you stupid humans but we use them as we like We know how to please and we do it alright we are programmed in any kind of action we are programmed in any satisfaction
The androids are here, here to take control
The androids are here, here on patrol
The androids are here, and we'll never go away
The androids are here, so do as I say
