A female crew member causes him a head injury He goes to a local cabaret for recovery

He gets attracted to the lovely dancer She leaves the club
with the handsome romancer

There is a scream outside
It carries high and wide And there he stands
with a knife in his hands Wolf in the fold
A story to be told
He didn't do it, he's innocent You've gotta see there's gotta be
a wolf in the fold
He can't remember anything of the incident
The old barbaric laws mean a terrible punishment

He gets help
by a psycho-technician
She feels the presence of an evil alien

There goes the light
A scream in the night
And there he stands again
Is he insane?
Wolf in the fold
A story to be told
He didn't do it, he's innocent
You've gotta see
there's gotta be
a wolf in the fold
