Yesterday, I grew up learning how to live alone
It was my way and I thought I'd never need someone
Until I found the one

Lonely steps, that are still echoing in my head
The remains, images of the words that once were said
Nothing but in vain

Chorus:

Ever since the day you came to me
You filled my life with grace and beauty
I was so happy that I cried, because you took away
My wasted heart
You brought me out from the land of fear
Never let me to disappear
Now I see another footprints
Painted on the sand next to mine

With you I go, through the rain and through the Light of sun
No shade of gray, when you're by my side your Love will make me whole
No I'm not alone
And everyday, I wake up knowing you will never go
I'm not afraid, the more I know you the more I can
Be sure
Yes, I've found the one

(Chorus)

I've come so far without you
Through thousand tears I've cried
To find a love so special
That would carry beyond this lifetime
It wasn't just a feeling
I think it was more like a real thing
To have this kind of confrontation
Knowing you'll be with me everyday
Everyday...
