There was a time
When everything we shared was true
There was a crime
That made a gap between me and you
I didn't know
There was no word of trust in me
Until you showed
I'm just a part of this insanity
There was a day
When I thought that I was good inside
There was a night
Just to realize I'm far too blind

Bridge:

Tryin' to keep it all in my hands
I fail
Tryin' to give it all into your hands
There is a chance

Chorus:

And anyway in life and death
In everyway and every breath
I'm not alone I'm not afraid
Because you know
What's best in life and death

It'll take some time
Just to understand how much you care
It was the sacrifice
Of your son that made us one again
He paid the price
With his act he beat the enemy
He broke the chains
By his blood he redeemed us all
Now it's the time
To accept the fact what You have done
It is the time
Time to think before the days are gone
