Everything is burning
Everything is changing
Right before our eyes
And we can't see

How quickly time is fading away
Don't look so surprised
You knew this day was coming
For so long

Forget about all your lies
And all your in-decisions
Time is fading

One day the earth
And sky will burn
And all that we'll be left with
Is the truth of God
And the souls of man

From the beginning all we knew
Is our days were numbered
And time was slowly fading
From the beginning all we knew
Is our days were numbered
And time was fading away

Everything is burning away
