When hope is all you have
You realize just how much
You need someone

When the weight of the world
It seems to be all yours
The hand of hope will carry you
Will carry you through

When the weight of the world
It seems to be all yours
The hand of hope will carry you
Will carry you through

Carry you through
Through the rain
When hope is fading
When hope is gone

When the weight of the world
It seems to be all yours
The hand of hope will carry you
Will carry you through

When the weight of the world
It seems to be all yours
The hand of hope will carry you
Will carry you through

Will you carry me through the rain
Through the rain with you?

When the weight of the world
It seems to be all yours
The hand of hope will carry you
Will carry you through

When the weight of the world
It seems to be all yours
The hand of hope will carry you
Will carry you, carry, carry you through
