Shadows swim through memory, bright as day.
Through darkest nights, the ones we lost,
Can light our way.

This is our life, through the hard times.
Here's to the ones, that lost their way.
So cry all your tears, give all your love.
Before the fall, before your end of day.

Setting sun, fading blue and orange sky.
Certainness, your one last chance,
To say goodbye.

This is our life, through the hard times.
Here's to the ones, that lost their way.
So cry all your tears, give all your love.
Before the fall, before your end of...

Please.....
You lost your way, you lost your way, you lost your way.

Please.....
You lost your way, you lost your way, you lost your way.

This is our life, through the hard times.
Here's to the ones, that lost their way.
So cry all your tears, give all your love.
Before the fall, before your end of day.

The December wind, kisses your skin.
You'll never feel so alive.
But bright as the sun, everything dies.
It's alright before your end of day.
