"Hey Doctor"

Hey doctor tell me how can it be our screams are so real and you, you live in harmony you can't heal this cancer radiation will kill your cult of flames behind the wall of sleep impostor without knowing your beliefs been defiled the flesh on them bones been scorched and burned a downward spiral for your heresy inclined you're pushing forward back your logic is reversed constitution of murder so legal and proud institution of sadness

a lot of them died blood pouring down from the back of your neck you're being drowned of vitality's gift like a serpent's tooth the venom penetrates fight fire with fire and you fight back intergrity and dignity for what it's worth now pull your head out and act like a man it seems like you never have been free fight fire with fire ant then fight back the symptoms of your illness are beginning to fade now tell me who's to blame burn burn flame
