I've learned to deal with being all alone
I've learned to understand that you are gone
I see the pictures fade just like a dream in the night
Still I find the strength to carry on

I've learned to face the morning without you
I've learned to understand that we are through But somehow it seems the love we shared is just beyond my reach
And I find I don't know what to do

Ever since you left I really tried
But still my heart is left in pieces
And I can't count the tears that I have cried
But I will let you go, any day now

I see our love was hidden in a smile
That faded like the innocence you hide
I was sure I found a love to last until my dying breath
I thought that we would last more than a while

But summer came and faded into fall
You drew away from me, I lost it all
I pray the Lord will see me through,
Cause I don't understand
All I do is wait for you to call

Ever since you left I really tried
But still my heart is left in pieces
And I can't count the tears that I have cried
And I will let you go, any day now

I used to think the love we had would stand the test of time
I thought that you would be here to the end
I never knew that love was playing games with my mind
But I am left alone behind

I have tried
But still my heart is left in pieces
And I have cried

And I will let you go any day now
