I saw the fire and I felt the rain
I tried to love you but I made mistakes I wish that we could be as simple as it was so long ago
I hope you know

Here I stand open arms
Mind and soul and a beating heart
Let me love you like I love you just come back to me
with open arms

There's a yearning that I can't explain and a burning from a growing pain I can't lose the thought of you that you belong to someone else
I lose myself

Here I stand open arms
Mind and soul and a beating heart
with open arms

Don't let the past still be in charge of what you do Just leave the present in control Don't you forget that all I really ask of you is that you let me see your soul

Here I stand open arms
Mind and soul and a beating heart
with open arms

Here I stand open arms
Mind and soul and a beating heart
with open arms
