I didn't mean to call
I thought we said it all
But thoughts of you won't leave my head
Don't care who's wrong or right
Love's all we need tonight
And I don't wanna let forever end

Until the sun stops shining
And the moon turns grey
Til the oceans come rising up
To meet the rain
Through the crash of the thunder
Baby, don't be afraid
My love remains
Until the world fades away
It fades away

Sometimes it's hard to see
But you can always lean on me
Even if it hurts I'll take the strain
Gold might begin to rust
Rivers all can turn to dust
There's one thing that's never gonna change

Until the sun stops shining
And the moon turns grey
Til the oceans come rising up
To meet the rain
Through the crash of the thunder
Baby, don't be afraid
My love remains
Until the world fades away

And when the going gets rough
When the hard times test us
We never lose our faith, no
Cause what we got is so pure
It's never over til it's over
Love always finds a way

If the sun stops shining

And the moon turns grey
Til the oceans come rising up
To meet the rain
Through the crash of the thunder
Baby, don't be afraid
My love remains
Until the world fades away
My love remains
Until the world fades away, away
Until the world fades away
