Now that i am back out there
Once more scared
Misgivings haven't gone
Inside this human race
No touch of grace
And still no place to go

I know it's up to me
To decide if this is real
But i'm walking and fro
Always thinking about the ways i chose

Welcome back yesterday ... not far away ... i'll keep an eye on you
Tell me how could i forget all the angers i once had Should i start again ... to find the same ... that i once left behind
When tell me why should i forget all these dreams that i still have

Another time ... another turn, i thought
But now i know that's wrong
This life will still remain the same
If i don't change a thing myself
Suddenly so many doors are opening ... for me to try

I know it's up to me ...
