"Carry On"

Look at who we've become,
We're so stupid so dumb,
How do you expect that we can make it on our own?
Where do we go from here?
We're living in fear,
Of falling so much faster than we have ever known.

Sometimes it's just so hard to carry on,
But where would we go if this life was all gone?

When there's nowhere left to run to,
Where should we turn,
Where do we go when life seems to fade,
And every feeling burns.

We've seen nights and long days,
Spent weeks lost in pain,
We're trying to erase mistakes we've made so many times,
Where are we now?
Will we make it and how?
The fuse is growing shorter as the flame keeps burning on.
