Take your hands off of me.
You can't see what I see.
I know just where you've been.
In and out of my friends.

How can you grow up if you're always laying down?
How can you grow up if you're always laying down?
How can you grow up if you're always laying down on me?

(Chorus)

I don't wanna go where everybody's been.
I don't wanna know what I am missing.
Tell all your lovers, tell all your friends
I don't wanna go where they've already been.

If you wanna wine and dine her, you better stand in line.
I can make her come, but I can't make her mine.
She looks so good, but it's so sad.
The girl that everybody wants,
Is now the girl that everybody's had.

Take your hands off of me.
You will never fuck me.
You're a delicatessen, ready for confession.
Well maybe your obsession should be your profession?
