School day fade away
3:00 won't come today
Let the bells keep ringing, to the key that the children sing in

This lesson's killing me
You sit back and watch us bleed.
Just close your eyes and teach, close your eyes and teach

Are you my teacher? Why won't you listen to me?
You might learn something cause something's missing
- can't you see?.

The girl who won't raise her hand
Thinks you won't understand
Take a look at her arm
Tell her daddy won't do no harm

Just open up your eyes, you gotta realize when you are needed.
Open up your mind, know that even though the class is seated
- there's one more empty chair

Where's little angel?
She always sat right there
She had a beautiful smile. only saw it once and a while

Why did she stay so sad?
Why did she hate her dad?
On the surface, stable .. just keep it under the table

She had an accident
Now her parents pay the rent
On time and drink their wine. they'll pretend everything is fine
