How many words I say, just to convince myself
That you are not my man, only some kind of friend
You could not share my pain 'cause you don't feel the same
But love, you know, is so unexpected thing
But love, you know, is so a special dream

How many lies I tell each time I meet your friends
They talk behind my back, you know that I don't care
And now I feel so bad (And now I feel so bad)
And love, you know, is so unexpected thing
And love, you know, is so a special dream
How I've been missing you but now I wish you to...

Keep on falling, keep on falling on me
Keep on falling, keep on falling on me
Keep on falling, keep on falling on me
Keep on falling, keep on falling on me

Where can I find you now ? I'm searching all the town
Tonight I'll leave my house, alone I feel so down
How long I've cried for you (How long I've cried for you)
But now I know that I can't live with you
And now you know how much I'm loving you

Keep on falling, keep on falling on me
Keep on falling, keep on falling on me
Keep on falling, keep on falling on me
Keep on falling, keep on falling on me

And if one day you want to come back to me
Don't hesitate to hold me tight, you know what I mean...
All I want is you, is you, all I want is you, is you
All I want is you, all I want is you.
