When things are going down and you wanna pick it up
Why don't you try and do what I do
The way I know to get you out of that slump is To listen to music that puts a smile on your face
I won't let you be down so you better start jumping Cause you're making me ill
No one says when they grow up
They wanna be an addict well, I wouldn't have it another way
When things are going down and you wanna pick it up
Why don't you try and do what I do
I know some days you get dealt a bad hand
So listen to music that puts a smile on your face
I won't let you be down so you better start jumping Cause you're making me ill, no one says when they grow up
They wanna be an addict well, I wouldn't have it
another way
While your passing through my way give me some s-ka
On my tongue and in my veins, I wouldn't have it
another way
I'm only telling you once I haven't told you before That I can't stand people like you, thinking the way I spend my time is all a shame, you say we are all the same
But when you look at us you say that could've been me
If I just followed my my dreams,
I'd rather do it now and regret it later,
Hey I wouldn't waste another day.
Why you tryin' to rule my world, see the tables slowly turn
You're the one whose wasting their time it's all a shame
But when you look at us you say that could've been me
If I just followed my my dreams,
I'd rather do it now and regret it later,
Hey I wouldn't waste another day.
Why you tryin' to rule my world, see the tables slowly
turn
You're the one whose wasting their time it's all a shame
You're all the S A M E
