

Spring Awakening

"Mass Appeal Madness"

Visit "Mass Appeal Madness" on MotoLyrics.com

We've been gone for so long that it doesn't really matter where we're going to, there's no looking back. I know I should be strong, but my heart isn't in it and I don't know my limit, so all I can do is move on.

Different day, different town, they say take it easy. You know I won't let you down, I hope you believe me. I think I've been here once before, but I just can't remember. I hope a miracle will occur so they don't know.

We've been gone for so long that it doesn't really matter where we're going to, there's no looking back. I know I should be strong, but my heart isn't in it and I don't know my limit, so all I can do is move on.

I think we've been gone a long time, but I can't be sure. If loneliness is a disease, well then I've found a cure. Every place looks like home, every face looks familiar. So close but yet so far. The days blend together.

Visit Spring Awakening page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.