falling down from A grey cloud open wounds still bleeding yesterday won't forget My name tomorrow will never forgive me i never felt that i want to much i never said that i need to much But with the lack of the strength i need there i was almost giving up

thEn i saw beautiful
and it opened up my eyes
when i found beautiful
it opened up my life
now i know beautiful
and how things should be
you are my beautiful
beautiful to me

laying down on a quiet night hoping that no one will find me i neveR thought i could feel so low definition of empty i always knew that i felt too much i always heard that i caRed too much but at the edge down upon my knees

it opened my life
yeah your So beautiful
