Who are you and what drives your needs
Is it what's inside or is it what you see
Playing partners just a distraction
Demoralizing attraction
How can I just close my eyes and pretend not to see?
But the lines draw quickly
It took time to see through all your twisted thinking
Now it's all about push!
The words you use, you plant like seeds
Into their hearts to get what you need Cruel to fool those who might want you
Filling up the holes deep inside you
How can I just close my eyes and pretend not to see?
But the lines draw quickly
It took time to see through all your twisted thinking
Now it's all about push!
Take a step back so I can see your face
'Cause I'm not really sure who you are today
I Take a step back so I can see your face
'Cause I'm not really sure who you are today
The way you play
The way you play
You see it's all so fragile feelings
Beacuse they change what's in your mind
Uplifting degrading it's not what you hope to find
Because the measure of a man is what's in his heart not in his bed
The way you play
