in 1956 things were changing the federal government was rearranging started to put an end to segregation you can't do that to our proud confederation state of Georgia, southern pride we'll raise a flag so we can defy they can't tell us what to do racism stitched in red, white, and blue how can you justify, what they can't deny the flag of our state, a banner of hate separate is not equal, our state flag sucks!
1997 and things ain't changed a bit the flag's on a pole and we're all under it racial harmony is what they preach but the flag's raised high, out of reach its our heritage, is what they tell us but i really think that our memories fail us we can't remember 40 years of lies and over our state the banner still flies the governor won't listen, he fears for re-election politics run amuck, for the almighty buck separate is not equal, our state flag sucks!
it's our heritage
it's our heritage
HERITAGE OF HATRED!!
