The liberator of sin, the giver of delight
I took the drug and went out like a light
I giggled on the bed as I stared at the wall
I was the one who felt ever so small

I couldn't take it, I couldn't win with my thoughts
Forever playing chess and keeping reports
On whatever I saw and whatever moved, oh
I was emperor for an hour, I had nothing else to do

Universe caved in, my legs fell away
I took the drug but you didn't say
That I would be you and you would be me
When I took the pill that put me to sleep

I couldn't take it, I couldn't spin all the plates
Forever in a mind field of personal games
What could I do, I was Caesar of Rome
Thank God I woke up to find you had come home
Thank God I woke up to find you had come home

Ooh, aah, home
Ooh, aah, home
Ooh, aah, home
Ooh, aah, home
