Malicious gossip will never profit
When hearsay is its foundation
There are subscribers whose appetizers
Are pieces of conversation

Concocted rumors by out of tuners
Are the must in lovers' concerto
As long as we know at the piano
We're serving meat with our potato

Love's crashing waves upon the rocks
Is seen by some, by you it's not
But you won't drown, love is your town
When love is found for all to want

Unfounded scandal I cannot handle
When it's been so diluted
With careful wording love can be burning
A fire unconstituted

So my prescription is my addiction
When love is social surrounding
To show your colors to all those others
Who think that your love is drowning

Love's crashing waves upon the rocks
Is seen by some, by you it's not
But you won't drown, love is your town
When love is found for all to want
