(Difford/Tilbrook)

What's wrong with this picture
Her eyes are like moons
It's just like looking
In two empty rooms
She's looking so fragile
As thin as an eel
What's wrong with this picture
What does it reveal
Beauty speaks
There's so much to say
Tell me what's wrong with this picture today

What's wrong with this picture
She's lighter than air
Life seems to be happening
But she is not there
The late night temptation
The eyes on her skin
What's wrong with this picture
There's nobody in

What's wrong with this picture
Location withdrawn
It's empty without you
Your face so forlorn

Shake yourself
Sweep you head away
Tell me what's wrong with this picture today
