"Summer smiles but passes on
Autumn sings her lonely song
The robin waits for spring,
But what will waiting bring?

Winter spreads her blanket down
White and flawless on the ground
The flowers can?t be seen,
But you?re my evergreen.

Cold north wind has come around
Fragile ones stay underground
But there is one who thrives
Despite the chilling sky

The one I love is constant, though
Seasons come and seasons go
She will abide with me
My darling evergreen

The one I love is constant, though
Seasons come and seasons go
She will abide with me
My darling evergreen"
