Once inside the door, I check my face in the mirror
As I look past this lonely minute
Was this the ride worth waiting for?
I'm scared to death that now I've missed it

But she was not the only stone
Skipped across this gravel road leading down the path of loneliness
So I'll fly from this hate, pray my soul the lord will take me
To a place through time and indifference

I wanna know, how do you feel?
I wanna know if this was real
So tell me what would you say?
If you can make this pain go away

She plans her future lookin' bright ahead
Leaves me in the past
I can't stand to hang out with my codependent friends
My patience fading fast

But every sign and every song is telling me that I don't belong
But it's okay to feel scared
'Cause one day soon I'll find myself and realize that no one else
Will make me feel stupid

I wanna know, how do you feel?
I wanna know if this was real
So tell me what would you say?
If you can make this pain go away

There's this old man down in Fell's point
Always hangin' around
Tellin' me, "Son, the pendulum swings both ways
But for you, It'll always swing down"

I wanna know, may be I know, how do you feel?
Yeah, I wanna know, know, know if this was real, yeah
Baby I wanna know

You gotta tell me if this was real
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
So tell me what would you say?
What would you say?
What would you say?
If you can make this pain go away
