"Mess With My Mind"

is it leaving time again?
tell me will we ever be back again?
down here on the water, in the dark I start to falter break me of my confidence, break my nerve down here on the corner, out on the curb take a little time to mess with your mind, or mess with mine and leave me where I stand then walk away from here.

just another lonely face out on the block I don't ever want to see you talkin that talk
take a little time to mess with your mind, or mess with mine you leave me where I stand
then walk away from here.

just another lonely face out on the block
you don't ever want to stop and turn away
