People all around you
They're making you scared
You don't wanna see them
They make you feel bad

Everyone is staring
You don't wanna be the same
They make you feel nervous
As you're going insane

Gotta end this game
You can't get out and you're going insane

Your fingers are twitching
Cus you need a cigarette
You're slowly overflowing
As you drag to right and left

Your body is trembling
And you're pulling your hair
You're running in circles
And you're drowning in despair

Gotta end this game
You can't get out and you're going insane

And they told you it was the only way
But you don't believe a word they say
And they told you it would get better
But you don't see any change

Five voices are screaming
Commanding your head
You started growing patient
And your eyes are turning red

Your gingerview is itching
And you need a sip of vine
He's got a spinning head ache
And you're running out of time

Gotta end this game
You can't get out and you're going insane

And they told you it was the only way
But you don't believe a word they say
And they told you it would get better
But you don't see any change

They're slipping through your fingers
And you're losing control
Always one step behind them
Because you sold your soul

You see them coming closer
And you pop another pill
The devil is approaching
And he's making you feel left

And they told you it was the only way
But you don't believe a word they say
And they told you it would get better
But you don't see any change

And they told you you'd get a second chance
But you don't trust a word they say
They promised you it would get better
But you still can't see any change
No you still can't see any change
Any change
