I feel bitter, you made me taste my own medicine
I am frustrated, stuck in this everyday routine

And I'm tired of being alone
Always on my own, I want you back home
And now that you're back home I am back on the road
Now that's the way things always seem to go

I feel silly, something has gotten into me
And it's driving me crazy, talking to this machine

And I'm tired of being alone
Always on my own, I want you back home
And now that you're back home I am back on the road
Now that's the way things always seem to go

Ooh baby, I am falling
Can't you hear, can't you hear that I am calling?
Yeah

I feel bitter, you made me taste my own medicine
But it's getting better
Cause you are my cure, my remedy

Yeah, I'm tired of being alone
Always on my own, I want you back home
But now that you're back home I am back on the road
Now that's the way things always seem to go

On my own, on my own, I'm always on my own
I'm tired of being alone
Always on my own, I'm coming back home
And it's so good to know you'll be waiting by the door
I can't wait no more
Baby I'm coming home
