"Building And Bridges"

Do you remember the beach and the bridges the buildings and the first time we left i found confidence inside a bottle that i still kiss before i go to bed i'm walking with my head up there but i'm running with black eyes i should be the one that's laughing but i could never be that proud two weeks from now (i'll) we'll be missing this (them) but if (i'd) we'd stay here (i'd) we'd be drowning deep and i can't wait to see you again and again and again but the road is calling my ugly name
