Suffocating on your ambience,
I'm choking down inconsistency in all I've strived for, through blood and shit-stained eyes.
[Hold the torch for me, guide me between the demons.
Draw the map for me and tell me stories.
] Embalm my emotions dear.
Embalm me as well. All along this treacherous bridge,
the view makes me want to turn back.
But if I push on further, I know the greener scenery will take me with open blades of grass.
Take charge. Take the lead. Take the reins from me.
