There's something deep inside my heart
And it begins to hurt so much whenever we're apart
I don't know how it got there, but I want it to stay
Because it feels so nice when your never away

I've been searching for a place where I could hide
And I finally found it deep within your eyes
Baby

Please don't go away
You hold all my faith
In your kiss I taste
A journey for finding
Something that you can hold, and never let it go
Something that can stay true
You just need someone to love
love you, love you, the way i do
love you, love you, only me

Now that you're here with me
It's only you I see
Nobody else could matter
Baby! what's got you going crazy?
Is there an empty part, that lies within your heart?

Please don't go away
You hold all my faith
In your kiss I taste
A journey for finding
Something that you can hold, and never let it go
Something that can stay true
You just need someone to love
love you, love you, the way i do
love you, love you, only me

I know our love will last forever,
And you should know...
Forever means together!

Please don't go away
You hold all my faith

In your kiss I taste
A journey for finding
Something that you can hold, and never let it go
Something that can stay true
You just need someone to love
love you, love you, the way i do
love you, love you, only me

You hold all my faith...
You just need someone to love you
I'll never never go
