There's nothing left, nothing left to hold on to
There is no reason for me to fight anymore
I let it all go, it'll be easier I know
The weight on my shoulders tells me so

So, now, I stand here
To sing another song for you
About the pain I felt before
Now there's nothing I can do

Now, I stand here
With nothing left to say to you
And if you all could sing along
It might help me make it through

I try to move on, nothin' left to hurt me now
I hope it's all in the past to stay
Just tryin' to see through
All the fucked up shit we do
And hope that we all don't drift away

So, now, I stand here
To sing another song for you
About the pain I felt before
Now, there's nothing I can do

So, now, I stand here
With nothing left to say to you
And if you all could sing along
It might help me make it through

So, let it all out, nothin' left to hold on to
There is no reason for me to fight anymore
I let it all go, feels so much better now I know
The weight on my shoulders tells me so

So, now, I stand here
To sing another song for you
About the pain I felt before
Now there's nothing I can do

Now, I stand here

With nothing left to say to you
And if you all could sing along
It might help me make it through

There's nothing left
None of it's worth holding on to
There is no reason for me to fight anymore
