Another day inside my world
I'm married to you and this road
Road that never lets me sleep
There's no way to escape, these demons
I am forced to keep

And then I find you here
Through your eyes, everything's clear
And I'm home inside your arms
But I'm alone for now

I mean the best with what I say
It doesn't always sound that way
I never learned to work things out
'Cause in my family, all we ever seemed to do is shout

And then I find you here
Through your eyes everything's clear
And I'm home inside your arms
But I'm alone for now, alone for now

And I try to sleep
The drugs I take are killing me
I think of you to ease my pain
But you're so far

And now it's time to say goodbye
I love you baby, please don't cry

And then I find you here
Through your eyes, everything's clear
And I'm home inside your arms
But I'm alone for now
Alone for now
