"Yesterday"

you don't know what you've put me through it's okay, i've forgiven you but in some way, hope it fucks with you hope it fucks with you

[pre-chorus]

that i'm okay and i've made it through but who's to say what you're going through i'll say no names, though i've wanted to isn't it strange how it seems like...

[chorus]

yesterday, a boy and already afraid locked deep inside, my place to hide to hide from how you made me feel
and i wonder how's your brother did he end up fucked up like me? lost in himself, crying for help it's safe to say i learned to live without a pride just a shell, with me stuck on the inside a prison, not a place to hide not a place to hide

[pre-chorus]

[chorus]

[chorus (altered)]

did he finally pull through like me? finding himself, not needing help i'd like to say
