Wake up, i don't feel cold anymore,
I realized, the mountain was tapping evermore

It's shading me, i feel lonely,
Wondering and watching only
It's bending now with shaded grooves
I've got so confused who put these rules
And i was shared by the angels' ill
My mystery is stretching, my mind is still

I raised my head to see (lonely star)
Breathing it's pale face from aloe
Then i stopped and turned
All of my soul is burned

Understand the game of destiny
Any black and white to see?
Dreaming the dream to stay alive
Dreaming against the fear of "run and hide"

Timeless scream from the mountains
Within me takes a step of a life's tragedy
I drain the line of this war
Too many things left to see

Eagerly my soul grew stronger
And nothing is cruel no longer
